Art Unit: 1616

Claims 1-26 are pending in this application.

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-14, drawn to method of controlling parasitic mites of honey bees.
- II. Claims 15-18, drawn to a miticidal composition.
- III. Claims 19-21 and 23-26, drawn to a slow release composition of 2-heptanone.
- IV. Claim 22, drawn to a trapping system with trapping means with 2-heptanone.

The four inventions as set forth above are distinct, each from the others. The composition per se has several materially different uses, such as controlling mites, attracting certain insects, and in the fragrance and perfumery fields. The slow release composition is divergently searchable in both the pest control art as well as the perfumery arts. Under the facts of this application, wherein a large number of compounds of different structure must be searched and examined, additional burden of considering such divergent subject matter and search fields would amount to undue burden.

Therefore, for the reasons of distinctness and undue burden the restriction requirement as set forth above is deemed to be proper.

During a telephone conversation with Ms. Connor on 6/25/03 a provisional election was made with traverse to prosecute the invention of Group I, claims 1-14. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims 15-26 are withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Art Unit: 1616

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over WO 97/47193.

WO 97/47193 teaches the use of limonene for controlling Varroa mite infestation in honey bees (p. 1, paragraph 5; p. 2, paragraphs 4-5; p. 3; claims 1 and 7). Slow release formulations are disclosed (p. 3). Treatment for at least one varroa mite reproductive cycle is taught (p. 2, last line of paragraph 4).

The cited reference does not explicitly state that the limonene is d-limonene. However, without any designation, limonene would contain and encompass both the d and l forms. Therefore, the d-limonene is suggested from limonene. Treatment for an extended period of time such as at least two brood cycles is suggested from the "at least one reproductive cycle" teaching and the known persistence of mite infestation in honey bees.

Art Unit: 1616

Therefore, the claimed invention, as a whole, would have been prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made, because every element of the invention and the claimed invention as a whole have been fairly suggested by the teachings of the cited reference.

Claims 7-14 are allowed.
